

Our Family Quilt

You are part of a unique family that makes an important contribution to your classroom community. Use the squares on the next page to tell the story of your family through illustrations, photographs and words. Then cut out each square and combine your squares with your classmates' squares to create one community quilt. Your quilt should reflect what you've uncovered about your family throughout this series of lessons.

Consider:

- what your family likes to do together
- unique aspects of your heritage
- what your heritage has contributed to the community
- something you've learned about your own family
- something you learned about someone else's family

• _____

• _____

TEACHING TOLERANCE

A PROJECT OF THE SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER
TOLERANCE.ORG

EARLY GRADES ACTIVITY

My Family	Our Heritage
Contributions to Community	What I Learned About Families

